Recommendation Letter Uroš Savurdić

To whom it may concern,

As representatives of EESTEC (Electrical Engineering STudents' European assoCiation), we are pleased to recommend Uroš Savurdić, whose work and contribution within our organisation made a clear, positive impact both locally and internationally, demonstrating exceptional leadership, training, and organisational skills.

Our mission is to spread and strengthen a network of students across Europe. We develop an international collaborative environment for students, where they can grow in both personal and professional capacities. EESTEC is present in 34 European universities and has 4000+ members who organise and attend technical, cultural, and soft skills events.

During his time with EESTEC, Uroš held several important roles. As Regionalization Project Leader, a challenging position, he coordinated a team of 30 members from different countries during the challenging period of COVID-19. In this position, he oversaw a restructuring of the project, which merged two international teams into one, and redefined operational processes. His efforts directly contributed to improved efficiency, stronger inter-branch cooperation, and a better regional culture. For his dedication and results, Uroš was named EESTECer of the Year in 2021, an award given to one person annually across the entire network.

Locally, as Training Team Coordinator for EESTEC in Belgrade, Uroš was in charge of planning and managing educational activities for the entire branch. He organized soft skills workshops, supported internal HR processes, and worked closely with the local Board on team development and conflict resolution. Notably, he played an important role in organising the educational part of Soft Skills Academy Belgrade, a self-development project open to all students. In addition to this, Uroš acted as a mentor for two generations of new members. He personally supported and guided around 30 students, many of whom later took on leadership positions such as Chairperson, Fundraising Coordinators, and international project leaders and coordinators.

As an EESTEC Soft Skills Trainer, Uroš delivered over 100 hours of training sessions on topics like Leadership, Emotional Intelligence, Team Dynamics, and Nonviolent Communication both locally and internationally. His sessions were practical, interactive, and well-received by students and young professionals from across Europe.

What makes Uroš stand out is his ability to connect with people easily, his curious and reliable nature, and his readiness to step up when needed, especially in moments where good coordination and clear decisions were crucial.

We are confident Uroš will be a valuable addition to any team he joins, bringing valuable experience, a strong sense of teamwork, and a great attitude.

Sincerely,
